

Thomas Eakins
Head of the Schuylkill Regatta

October 27, 1984 Philadelphia

sponsored by University Barge Club and The Philadelphia Inquirer

Thomas Eakins (1844 — 1916)

It was 110 years ago, in 1874 that Thomas Eakins completed his series of five paintings and numerous sketches and studies of rowing and sculling on the Schuylkill River. While his world wide reputation as one of America's greatest painters is based primarily on his incisive and revealing portraits of upper middle class Philadelphians and on two monumental medical paintings — "The Gross Clinic" and "The Agnew Clinic" — to oarsmen and to all admirers of the placid beauty of the Schuylkill River as it winds through Fairmount Park, it is the rowing pictures that are most appealing.

Eakins himself was a superb oarsman. In fact, at one time he was urged to become a professional oarsman. (In the late nineteenth century there was considerable betting on races on the river and strong oarsmen were much in demand.) Eakins declined the offer and instead concentrated on painting.

RULES FOR COMPETITORS

START

Each entrant will be responsible for arriving at the starting line five minutes prior to his scheduled starting time. Boats leaving from Boathouse Row, proceed upstream on the West Bank and remain well out of the racing lane and finish line. Boats leaving from the Canoe Club must not cross the Race Course, but stay on East Bank from Strawberry Mansion Bridge and proceed upstream remaining well clear of the racing lanes and starting line. Boats arriving more than thirty seconds after the last entrant has started will not be allowed to row. Boats leaving from Boathouse Row shall allow thirty minutes to row to the starting line; from the Canoe Club, ten minutes. The start will be in sequence of bow markers.

PASSING RULE

Any boat being overtaken must move toward the West Bank (starboard side) in order to allow the overtaking boat to pass clear on his port side. He must maneuver well in advance so as not to "wash" the overtaking boat. The overtaking boat must move toward the East Bank (port side) so as to pass well clear and once ahead, endeavor not to "wash" the overtaken crew.

COURSE

The course begins just above the 2,000 meter starting line and passes through Strawberry Mansion Bridge under the arch marked lanes "1, 2 and 3". It continues downstream to Columbia Railroad Bridge, leaving Peter's Island to starboard and passes under the second arch from the East Bank. From there it remains on the east side of the river to the Girard Avenue Bridges, passing through the second arches from the East Bank and then on to the finish line at the Sedgeley Club. Any crew not passing through these checkpoints will be penalized 60 seconds per violation.

FINISH

Once across the line, crews must immediately clear the finish areas and return to their launch site for their bow marker to be retrieved. A $5.00 charge will be assessed for each bow marker not returned. Times and results may be checked at the University Barge Club at the presentation of awards.

The Philadelphia Inquirer Cup is presented to the winner of the 1983 Thomas Eakins Head of the Schuylkill Regatta, Joe Caminiti, head coach of the New York Athletic Club (right), and Vince Ventura, assistant coach (center), by William Broom, The Inquirer's vice president for public affairs.

The Inquirer's interest in regattas dates back to the early part of the century. At that time, The Inquirer Regatta for sailboats and motorcraft was a major event off the Atlantic coast.

In fact, The Inquirer Cup to be presented at today's regatta is the same one presented at The Inquirer Regatta of 1911.
